No Need To Dread the Heat This Summer

Happy Hour Installing Refrigerator Plant Will Be Completed by Middle of Next Week.

One of the most refreshing announcements that has been made in many days was today when it was learned that the Happy Hour theater had installed its own refrigerating plant which will be completed the early part of next week and the dread of being warm while attending a show will be unknown at this theater. In fact, the "Happy Hour" promises to become a place where people will go to get cool during the long hot nights, as well as seeing the best vaudeville in Texas. The building of this plant necessitated a big expense of money but the management was determined to have the most comfortable amusement house in existence.

It consists of storage plants, located in the basement, ten feet long, six feet wide, and four feet deep, in which is stored daily a half ton of ice. The large exhaust fans draw the fresh air from the outside into the plant which passes over the salt covered ice. The cool air is then forced out in outlet tubes of six inch pipes, coming up through the floor of the theater in six different places, through iron grates.

The four air from the theater is forced out through a four foot opening in the roof by a large exhaust fan of 1600 revolutions per minute and it is expected that the temperature will remain about 65 degrees during the performances.

Tonight the regular shows will be given and the regular matinee Sunday afternoon. Monday there will be a complete change of program.

AMUSEMENTS.

FUN AT THE PARK.

Washington Park opens for the season tonight, and there will be plenty of entertainment every night during the summer. If the pretentious plans for the opening are continued, the band will play each evening, the theater will be open with up-to-date vaudeville, and all the concessions—boats, natatorium, miniature railway, bowling alleys, figure 8, etc.—will be open. The management announced the following program for the park theater for tonight and the first half of next week:

Devois and Stevens, in their greatest comedy success, "The Bootblack's Quarrel."

Hear Miss Rose Black, "The Girl of the Golden West," singing beautiful illustrated songs. Interpreted, "When the Parson Said the Words that Made Us One," and "My Dream of the U. S. A."

The four Solars, the dancing wonders, introducing "Baby Solar, the youngest dancer in the world."

Ellis and Ferrar, in their laugh producing farce, "The Clown's Dream of the Mechanical Doll."

Good motion pictures chase the blues away, with a laugh every minute.

EXCELSIOR MOTOR CYCLES. Ask the riders what they'll do.

PUBLIC HEALTH IN TURKEY

Under the Young Turks American Missionaries Have Started Campaigns Against Typhoid and Tuberculosis--Turkish Women Go to Lecture With Negro and Eunuch Attendants.

(By Emily Ray Gregory, Ph. D., Professor of Biology, American College for Girls, Constantinople.)

Since the Young Turks have come into power we have had four hygienic lectures, something never possible before, and we feel that the public health work is sorely needed, is now fairly under way.

In the first place I must tell you of some of the local difficulties to be surmounted. Among the old Turks, women and men never attended a public gathering. Not even church, at the same time, and it would have created a great scandal if any idea should get about that our students, among whom there are 20 Turkish girls, should be present at a lecture, and which men, especially Turkish men, are invited. Although there is somewhat more freedom among the young Turks, we could run no risks of that nature. Fortunately, the hall we use does not belong directly to the college, and is greatly interested. After the lecture sets of rules to avoid typhoid fever were distributed.

The next lecture, to which only women were invited, was on "The Hygiene and Food of Children." At least one hundred Turkish women and our Turkish girls came, and all listened eagerly to a long and able lecture by the same Dr. Kadri Raschid Pasha. Most of the women stayed and had tea with us. A negro attendant and a eunuch were characteristic additions. The women were their teachers but with raised veils.

The interest shown in the lectures was much greater than I had dared count on. Several thanked us before they went away. One lady belonging to a very high family and the mother of one of our students, spoke of the value and importance of such lectures for our young women.

We had a lecture on "Contagious Diseases of Children," by Dr. Suleiman Nouman Pasha, a specialist who studied in Germany and France, and also a lecture by Dr. Asakli Moutkar Bey, on "Tuberculosis and its Prevention," and we had leaflets on "How to Cure and Prevent Tuberculosis" distributed after the lecture.

Dr. Asakli Moutkar Bey has been back in Constantinople about a year, following extended studies chiefly in Paris. The lecture by another prominent physician, Dr. Asakli Devrishi, on "The Education of Girls from the Standpoint of Physiology and Hygiene," was interesting, and the address on the "Sanitary Care of the House," by Dr. Asakli Moutkar Bey from the garbage and filth thrown in the streets and heaped on the piers near the boat landings, to be passed and re-passed before it is thrown into the Bosphorus, where thousands of gulls indicate the disposal of the last boat load.

But this must not be interpreted as an adverse criticism of the present government. They are struggling bravely with tremendous problems, weighed down with a heavy debt which they must increase in order to accomplish anything. In fact, they not only "accomplished the impossible" in securing a constitution, but they must continue to do the impossible for a generation to come. Think of our having to cut out all advice to go to a hospital in "How to Cure a Consumptive," because there is no suitable hospital to go to, and a physician told me of having visited the tuberculosis ward in one of the hospitals (not Turkish) here this winter, and finding "everything" inside but the windows all closed.

Political problems which are before the empire naturally engross the attention, but as we foreigners see the difficulties the young Turks have to meet on account of the national prejudices of the different races and the medieval attitude of the deputies from the interior, we cannot but feel that to arouse interest in such a vital problem as this is for the empire, and one which is neither political nor religious but in which all the nationalities must work together for their common good, would very quickly lessen the political friction, and advance the common understanding essential to wise legislation abroad--Exclusive service Survey Press bureau.
